

Celebrate our Babe Ruth Centennial

Saturday, September 7; 10 to 3 on historic Babe Ruth Field
Cooper Street, Delanco, NJ

Join us in commemorating the day in 1924 when the great Babe Ruth came to Delanco to play an exhibition Game; The biggest public event in Delanco History.

This year, we mark the centennial with a double-header between two titan teams of the 19th Century Vintage Base Ball Association:

The Flemington Neshanock and the Elkton Eclipse Base Ball Clubs

Matches will be played by historic Civil War era (1864) rules of the game.

A family-friendly event; Free to the public. Food and beverage available at the field. Bring your chairs or blankets, and cameras.

Two blocks east of Delanco Riverline Station.

Family Activities; History Displays, Pageantry, Special Guests, Music and more!

Featuring the 23rd NJ Regiment Volunteer Infantry
–The “Jersey Yahoos” Color Guard

Free Admission
